Dear Youth Directors and Coaches:

Childhood hunger is a silent crisis that affects more than 15 million children in America. In the land of superstores, fast food, and convenience, it can be hard for many of us to believe that children go hungry. However, in every community of our nation, children suffer from food insecurity, meaning they lack consistent access to the nutritious food needed to succeed in school and life. Most of these children come from middle-income families with parents who are struggling to make ends meet. When family paychecks are stretched, parents must make a tough decision: pay the rent or buy groceries. And in these situations, saying the rent always wins, because it's better to be hungry than homeless.

FOCUS North America is an Orthodox Christian organization that works to end childhood hunger in America. Throughout the nation, FOCUS serves meals three times per day, 365 days per year. This year alone, FOCUS will provide more than 100,000 meals to children in need. More than that, FOCUS works with school districts in 30 cities nationwide to ensure that disadvantaged children have the resources they need to attend school, learn, and break the cycle of poverty that affects far too many children in our communities.

At the upcoming GOYA basketball tournament, hosted by Holy Cross parish in Pittsburgh, the GOYANS decided to add a "Basketball with a Purpose" theme. In addition to the concession items usually available, Holy Cross will offer a healthy lunch option for $5. For each lunch sold, a similar meal will be provided to a child in need through FOCUS' feeding programs.

Rather than eating out, we encourage your teams and families to support GOYA's Basketball with a Purpose. Purchase a lunch at the tournament and help us alleviate childhood hunger.
